SOUTH PARK "FISH" GET INITIATIONS

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 26.—Freshmen of the New South Park college paraded through the downtown business section last night, arrayed in nightclothes. Sophomores of the college were in charge of the parade, and arranged for special dances on the most prominent business corners, in which freshmen were the performers. The parade ended at the Y. M. C. A. Freshman girls of the college were also properly initiated, but no announcement was made with reference to them other than that they were "being taken care of by the Sophomore girls."

NEDERLAND FIRM FILES BANKRUPTCY

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 26.—A petition in bankruptcy was filed in federal court here yesterday by the Home Furniture company of Nederland. The Home Furniture company consists of a partnership between John Mazzaro and Fred Morris. Debts of the company will total $2,448.82.

MAY ATTEMPT

as the pull is made with steam winches on the land bank. Steam lines connected up with the vertical steam engine on the bank and running from the dredge Kimble to the winches also were visible.
Plane Hovers 50 Feet Over Isonzo
Swooping down from an altitude of several hundred feet, Pilot Owen skillfully brought the airplane about 50 feet over the scene of the wreck. Men on the barges dropped their work and waved at the machine roaring over their heads.
The two cables attached to the stern of the Isonzo were slack, and no steam spouted from the winches as the airplane soared over the wreck, indicating that no attempt was being made to pull the ship over on even keel.

Late today reports from the wreck were to the effect that cables are still being strung around the hull of the Isonzo, and that a steam winch was broken early today while handling one of the cables around the ship. About five cables are rigged around the vessel, going under the water from the edge of the canal, with the exception of the two attached to the stern of the ship and brought across to hoisting machinery on the bank.

Barges Plying Lake
A pull on all the cables, which will mark the first direct effort to get the Isonzo back on even keel, first thought likely today, now is postponed until Saturday, according to visitors at the wreck today. Before orders are given for the pull to be started, engineers want every detail of the vast equipment assembled for the task to be ready, it was said.

Blocked by the cables and equipment assembled in the canal around the wrecked vessel, small tugs and barges are plying through Lake Sabine, and several of these tugs with their tows were seen by the News reporter as Pilot Owen swept along 1,000 feet high over the lake.

So Now, Girls, You Can Stop Worrying About Your Own Fat

EL PASO, Sept. 26.—Bonnie Bess is all "fussed" because she's losing weight. She's all run down to 567 pounds now. Six months ago she weighed a trifle more than 640 but she is now on a diet to get fat.

Bonnie Bess is the fat lady at the exposition and weight means dollars to her.

Bess is a spinster. She was asked what she would consider the ideal weight for a partner.

Oh, around 200," she replied. "I like 'em thinner. But I'll want to sit on my hubby's lap."

EARL COOPER FREED IN LIQUOR HEARING

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 26.—Earl Cooper, Port Arthur man charged with possession of liquor for sale, was found not guilty in 58th district court yesterday afternoon, following an instructed verdict by Judge O'Brien.

Three other Port Arthur men were freed following a hearing yesterday in the same court. Theo. Prince, L. Duplechain and C. Duplechain were all found guilty of unlawfully manufacturing intoxicating liquor, but sentence suspended. Evidence was introduced to show that the three operated a still on a barge near Port Arthur.

PATRIOTISM IS DAWES SPEECH

G.O.P. Candidate Warmed By Cordial Reception

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 26.—Warmed by an enthusiastic reception in Minneapolis, stronghold of Minnesota republicanism, Charles G. Dawes went up river today to St. Cloud with his message of "patriotism."

Dawes continued his account on Robert M. LaFollette as the leader of "socialistic thought, who would tear asunder the constitution of the United States—bulwark of freedom."

"An attack has been launched on the constitution of the United States which protects you and me in our inalienable rights, which are protected by the courts," he said.

"You people have not been going to the polls, because an issue has not been made. Well, I am making an issue, along with you. It is the protection of our rights, guaranteed by the constitution."

SANDLE-BACK TAPIRS FOR DALLAS' PARK

DALLAS, Sept. 26.—Visitors at the Forest Park zoo will soon have an opportunity to gaze upon what is believed to be the evolutionary link between the hippotamus and the elephant.

The sandle-back tapirs have been prepared for shipment to the zoo by Frank Buck, agent of the park board, who is now in Singapore, India. The two animals will be the only specimens of their kind in North America, Buck said.

2-FOOT ALLIGATOR RAIDS CHICKEN HOUSE

FROST, Texas, Sept. 26.—If anything happens to your chicken family look for alligators.

Earl Dawson, farmer near here, investigated a disturbance in his chicken house and discovered a lusty two-foot-long rearing animal waddling about the floor.

Students of animal life in this vicinity claim that it has been several thousand years since the saurian family have been natives here. It is believed the animal escaped from a circus.

WOOD COUNTY PLANS TO FARM 150 ACRES

TROUP, Sept. 26.—Wood county has turned farmer.

A tract of timberland totalling 150 acres, has been purchased by the county commissioners and will be cleared for farming purposes. Less Turner has been appointed superintendent of the farm and county prisoners will be allowed to work out their fines on the woodpile instead of the proverbial rock pile.

MOTHER, DAUGHTER, BOTH ENTER COLLEGE

DALLAS, Sept. 26.—Mother and daughter will study together at the state university this year. Mrs. James Bennett of this city will take special courses in English and Shakespearean drama while her eldest daughter carries on the regular freshman course.

CASE AGAINST JESSE ENGLISH DISMISSED

Special to The News.
BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 26.—The case against Jesse English, Port Arthur man, charged with possession of liquor, was dismissed by Judge O'Brien in 58th district court for want of evidence. An indictment was returned against English by the grand jury and he was scheduled to go on trial this morning.

GILBERT E. PERRY GOES TO SHREVEPORT

Gilbert E. Perry, who left the management of the victrola department at the Phoenix Furniture company here six years ago to accept a position as manager of the Foster Music company at Monroe, Louisiana, goes to the place of manager of the music and radio department of Feibleman's at Shreveport, October 1, according to word received by his friends in Port Arthur today.

MAKE YOUR FACE AS LOVELY AS YOU ARE

All most people see in anyone is what is on the outside. Naturally, those who are handicapped by pimples, blotches, "breaking out," eczema, etc., on their skin are not going to get any attention.
You can "make the frame as lovely as the picture really is" by simply getting rid of those skin disfigurements, if you will just use Black and White Ointment, and Soap. Then your good nature and sweet ways will stand out without any drawback, and folks will want to be around you. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50¢ size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25¢ size. All dealers have both the Ointment and Soap.—Adv.

BURGE URGED TO TOUR TEXAS

Want Texas Exhibits For New York Boosted

A. L. Burge, manager of the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, who was recently appointed general secretary for Texas for the collection of this state's exhibit for the Southern Exposition to be held in New York next January, has been asked to make a tour of West Texas and make addresses in behalf of the movement.

Burge today received a communication from Porter Whaley, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce asking the Port Arthur manager take the road when convenient. Should he make the trip Burge has been asked to make addresses at Wichita Falls, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo and other West Texas cities.

Collection of Texas exhibits is off with a great start, Burge states. He says the Sabine district will have a big exhibit at the New York exposition. "West Texas feels this is the chance of a life time to sell West Texas to the east and get big capital interested in its potentialities. South Texas and the Sabine district feel that way also and we shall endeavor to have the best state exhibit at the big event," the secretary said.

ASKS PROBE OF M'GEE'S DEATH

Navasota Woman Wants Body to Be Exhumed

NAVASOTA, Texas, Sept. 26.—With the receipt of a letter from the district attorney's office at Houston by the widow of W. H. McGee, wealthy and owner and cattle man of Navasota, which asked that the body of her husband be exhumed and a chemical analysis made, first steps toward a probe of the sudden death of McGee have been launched.

McGee died suddenly while in Houston, home on a business mission, September 18. It is alleged that he had a meeting with an unknown man in a rooming house before he died suddenly. He had enemies in Houston, it is said.

MARKETS

WALL STREET JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW
NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Increasing optimism regarding the outlook for gradual expansion into next year was reflected in the confident behavior of today's market and the upward course was resumed, establishing a generally higher level of prices in both railroad and industrial stocks. There were vigorous bullish activities in stocks like Brooklyn, Edison, East Iron Pipe, Coca Cola, General Baking, Woolworth and Gimbel Brothers.

Rails were stimulated by spirited buying of Frisco preferred, Atlantic Coast Line, Lehigh Valley, Lackawanna and other representative issues, made attractive by pending dividend developments or consolidation prospects.

Strength in the main body of stocks through the last hour created a good atmosphere for special movements and a number of spirited gains were scored. Cast Iron Pipe surged into record high ground at 124 on confident buying by interests which sponsored its rise since the stock was selling below 40.

MAIL COURSES FOUND GROWING

Texas University Extension Department Busy

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—Enrollment of students in the extension teaching centers conducted by the University of Texas at San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth has steadily increased since the establishment of these schools several years ago. Courses are offered in the extension teaching centers to those who do not have the opportunity of attending the university.

Last year there were approximately 75 students enrolled in Houston, and as many in San Antonio, while some 30 students attended in Fort Worth. It is hoped that the enrollment will be increased this year, and fees have been reduced in an effort to get a larger attendance. The schools are almost self supporting, and it is hoped that a reduction of fees will increase the enrollment to the extent that they will be independent of the university funds.

DENTON, Sept. 26.—The series of weekly open air band concerts which has been given during the summer closed this week. The concerts have been given by the Denton Municipal band, with the expense defrayed by the Chamber of Commerce, and large crowds have uniformly attended.

Oil and Gas Course At Texas University

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—A new course called "oil and gas" has been added to the curriculum of the new school of the University of Texas. This course will fill a long-felt want for some legal training in this important field, it is stated.

In speaking of the prospects of the new school for the coming year, Dean I. P. Hildebrand said:

"Texas is more prosperous this year than it has been for many years, and I believe that this will result in an extremely large number of new students entering the law school. We have had more applications for admission this year than ever before, and I expect to see the junior law class rooms filled to capacity."

"AIRY" CLOCK FOUND TO CONTAIN LIQUOR

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 26.—When police saw the hands of a clock were a bit "airy" they searched and found the "works" consisting of liquor. Mrs. Mary Frandi was arrested and sentenced to 60 days in jail. Later sentence was suspended.

FORGERY CASE IS DISMISSED

Woman's Former Husband Pleads for Dismissal

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A charge of third degree forgery against Mrs. Elaine Lee Harris, Memphis beauty, was dismissed by the grand jury here today when Beverly Harris, her banker ex-husband appeared before the jury and asked that the case be dropped.

Harris said it would be extremely distasteful to him to have his former wife sent to prison and that he was willing to "let bygones be bygones."

A PRINCESS IN SQUALOR
At the inquest of Sylvia Pearson, aged sixty-two, wife of Edward Pearson, an old-age pensioner living in Mayfair, London, West, the other day, the story came out that Mrs. Pearson was really a Russian Princess who died under conditions of appalling squalor.

Mrs. Edith Kent, the landlady said that the couple had lodged with her for fifteen years. The man was eighty-four years of age. Mrs. Pearson had been very poor but was known as the Princess Orloff. Mrs. Kent added that when she gave the couple food the woman would open the door just far enough to take it in. The man had not been out of the house for twelve years. The Princess was found dead in her bed one morning and had not had her clothes off in ten years.

A policeman said that he found letters in the room addressed to H. S. H. Princess Orloff. The coroner said the woman appeared to have been a Russian aristocrat who had been living in circumstances too horrible to describe.

Such instances as this would not be so striking if it were not for the fact that the person had been in better circumstances. For, "The sorrow-crown of sorrow is remembering happier days."

In fact all of the misery and tragedy to which the human race is subjected affects us mostly by contrast. The drunkard in his cups would not be so miserable were it not for the fact that he once had an opportunity to live the normal and respectable life among his fellows.

Thackeray describes a Frenchman whom he met in Paris, who had all been satisfied and optimistic until upon one occasion, he strove to acquire a fortune and failed; after that he was always a wretched and disappointed man.

Perhaps death is only terrible because of its contrast to life, just as our existing life is only tragic compared with what it might have been. Always hopes have their shadows, and it remains true that "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these, 'It might have been.'"

In New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—More beautiful girls are trying to force their way into moving pictures here than are trying to get in the chorus.

And when beauty meets beauty the battle is on.

Three hundred shapely and confident maidens answered a chorus call from a Broadway musical show. One hundred and eight were accepted. More optical daggers were thrown than would be used in a vendetta.

They faced the peering squad confident of acceptance. They came dressed in their best, many of them glittering with diamonds. Then they were handed bathing suits and ushered into a dressing room.

Clad in scant attire they came humbly to the shrine of beauty, shorn of material finery. Tiny diving attire doesn't hide interfering knees or bowed legs.

They lined up on a barren stage. Scenery and props were scattered in orderly array. Lights were dim. An unset stage is as unromantic as a dump cellar or dusty closet.

Only faces that appeal, lines that are graceful, curves that are alluring withstand the acid test. Nature's heritage is their only hope. A bathing suit clings and the business eye of a beauty expert is merciless.

It was a tense moment for the girls. They were facing Earl Carroll, youthful producer of The Vampires, a lavish revue.

With a care of his hand, as a traffic officer tosses automobiles about, he rejected many a girl that has been the family's boast for many years.

Uneven teeth, ankles that appear too frail to withstand a grueling rehearsal period, corns, hands that do not bend with the grace of a wax doll are a few of the causes for rejection.

"Gee, I'm lucky," said a girl from Minneapolis who was accepted. "I came here to get in the movies, but there are more girls trying to become screen stars than are trying to get in the chorus."

A girl from St. Louis who heard the chorus call over the radio was taken.

"It isn't because I didn't get a job I'm crying," sobbed one girl who was rejected. "It's being humiliated before a crowd of girls that hurts."

Wealthy men in New York have a new type bodyguard. He is known as their masseur. Twice daily he tortures their muscles, just as a prize fighter is treated on a training table. Then during the wealthy one's flippant moments the masseur trails him to protect him from harm. They usually are bulky and determined deities. In other days and in less aristocratic society they were known as "strong arm men."

FREED OF MURDER, ARRESTED FOR THEFT
HUTCHINSON, Kans., Sept. 26.—Following his acquittal on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of William Gibbs, wealthy recluse, Frank Leonard was re-arrested yesterday afternoon in connection with a robbery.

Gibbs was murdered last December. Dr. Kenneth B. Uhl, head of a sanitarium at Overland Park, Kansas, was sentenced to 25 years in prison in connection with the case. He is at liberty on an appeal bond. Leonard formerly was a patient at Uhl's sanitarium.

MASTER AND SLAVE IN THE TIME OF JEFF DAVIS

In the long ago Jefferson Davis was a gallant soldier, a ripe statesman and a knightly man. He had a black man servant, a slave, who was with him throughout the Mexican war and served him on the plantation at home in Mississippi. Jefferson Davis became the president of the planters republic and Abraham Lincoln the president of the states that remained steadfast to the flag and the union.

Slavery died. The Planters Republic became a memory while Jefferson Davis lingered on for a few years, ever retaining the affection of the people of the south and the admiration of many who were on the winning side. The son of the black slave of Jefferson Davis became a United States senator from Mississippi and a leader of his people in reconstruction days.

His name? Blanche K. Bruce. He died years ago but he left a son, Roscoe Conkling Bruce, named for the famous republican statesman and leader of New York. Young Bruce graduated from Harvard. He was head of the colored schools of Washington, D. C. for many years and now lives in Prince George county, Maryland.

He is one of the national leaders of his people, a brilliant orator and lifelong republican. In his campaign he has declared for John W. Davis because of the Ku Klux Klan issue and will make speeches in many northern states having large negro populations. He announced his decision in a most scathing criticism of the president for his refusal to voice an opinion on many of the issues which are uppermost in this campaign. This excerpt dealing with a situation in Massachusetts when the president was governor, is very interesting:

"Mr. Coolidge said no word when his word might have helped. His method was shown in the Boston police strike—to sit on the fence until the cat called Public Opinion has made its decisive jump and then to announce and sonorously support the principles of that jump until the unwary imagined the praise belongs to Mr. Coolidge himself rather than to the cat. But, if I may draw upon the folklore of my people I would say that not every shut eye is asleep. To make public opinion is better than to exploit it."

This grandson of a former slave of Jefferson Davis declared for John W. Davis before the president had granted pardons to six of the negro rioters who were lifers in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth. These pardoned convicts were principals in the murderous uprising in the city of Houston in war time when fourteen innocent persons were sent to bloody graves.

Why point the finger of scorn at Chief Justice Caverly of Illinois? Aren't convicted murderers pardoned by those high in office? Aren't murderers who should be convicted given their freedom by maudlin jurors or jurors who look upon life as less worthless and the crime less heinous than the theft of a horse or a pig?

But back to the noted negro lawyer and educator. He is on the road for John W. Davis and Charles W. Bryan which shows that the noted negro divine was right when he said, "De sun do move, Brother Jasper."

A MODERN MOSES

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire is the chairman of the republican senatorial campaign committee. Ten days ago he announced that the republicans would defeat re-election Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana and Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts. Now he has issued another manifesto. This time the republicans are going to elect senators in Oklahoma, Kentucky and Tennessee and the electoral votes of all three states are to be given to Coolidge and Dawes.

Senator Moses is an editor and publisher. His side line is statesmanship. New Hampshire republicans would not permit him to attend the Cleveland convention as a delegate. They said he was a reactionary of the most pronounced type and when New Hampshire republicans brand one of their leaders as a reactionary he must be the limit in the political garden of moss covered men and measures of the fossiliferous age.

Senator Moses has a slogan. "Claim every d—d thing in sight." He is living up to it. Democratic leaders are confident that Oklahoma, Kentucky and Tennessee will roll up astounding majorities in November. All the politicians of the national brand are guessing and bluffing and scared to death.

FOSTER ON THE ROAD

W. Z. Foster is the candidate of the national workers party for president of the United States. Foster is a communist and the members of the Worker's Party are communists.

William Z. opened his campaign in Ohio. He denounced both President Coolidge and John W. Davis as agents of Wall Street. He said the great steel plants of America must be nationalized by a workers and farmers government and advocated the complete abolishment of the present system of capitalism.

Soviet Russia abolished capitalists, destroyed individualism, abolished interest and repudiated the debts of the country. Foster should go to Russia. All the communists should go to Russia. A communist is out of place under the flag of the government founded by George Washington.

Sir Charles falls from his chair in a dying condition. Abington's last words are "Nicol Brinn" and "Fire-Tongue." Dr. Murdoch pronounces death due to heart-failure. Harley claims that Sir Charles was poisoned and calls on Nicol Brinn to ask him the meaning of "Fire-Tongue." Brinn refuses to tell the secret.

Paul investigates the life of Ormuz Khan, very wealthy Oriental, with whom Phil Abington, daughter of Sir Charles, is friendly.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"And outside mine," declared the inspector. "He hasn't the most distant connection with anything crooked. It gave me a lot of trouble to find out what little I have found out. Briefly, all I have to tell you is this: Ormuz Khan—who is apparently entitled to be addressed as 'his excellency'—is a director of the Imperial Bank of Iran, and is associated, too, with one of the Ottoman banks. I presume his nationality is Persian, but I can't be sure of it. He periodically turns up in the various big capitals when international loans and that sort of thing are being negotiated. I understand that he has a flat somewhere in Paris, and the Service de Surete tells me that his name is good for several million francs over there. He appears to have a certain fondness for London, during the spring and early summer months, and I am told he has a fine place in Surrey. He is at present living at Savoy Court."

CHAPTER X
His Excellency Ormuz Khan
The city clocks were chiming the hour of ten on the following morning when a page from the Savoy approached the shop of Mr. Jarvis, bootmaker, which is situated at no great distance from the hotel. The impudent face of the small boy wore an expression of serio-comic fright as he pushed open the door and entered the shop.

Jarvis, the bootmaker, belonged to a rapidly disappearing class of British tradesmen. He clucked to no one, but took an artistic pride in his own handiwork, criticism from a layman merely provoking a scornful anger which had lost Jarvis many good customers.

"Yes, sir," Jarvis was saying to a patron, "it's a welcome sight to see a real Englishman walk into my shop nowadays. London isn't London, sir, since the war, and the Strand will never be the Strand again." He turned to his assistant, who stood beside him, bootjack in hand. "If he sends them back again," he directed, "tell him to go to one of the French firms in Regent Street who cater to dainty ladies." He positively snorted with indignation, while the page, listening, whistled and looked down at the parcel which he carried.

"An unwelcome customer, Jarvis?" inquired the voice of the man in the fitting room.

"Quite an welcome," said Jarvis. "I don't want him. I have more work than I know how to turn out. I wish he would go elsewhere. I wish—"

He paused. He had seen the page boy. The latter, having undone his parcel, was holding out a pair of elegant, fawn-colored shoes.

"Great shoes," breathed Jarvis. "He's had the check to send them back again."

"His excellency—" began the page, when Jarvis snatched the shoes from his hand and hurried them to the other end of the shop. His white beard positively bristled.

So positively ferocious was his aspect that the boy, with upraised arm, backed hastily out into the street. Safety was "Bilney" exclaimed the youth. "He's the warm goods, he is."

He paused for several moments, staring in a kind of stupefied admiration at the closed door of Mr. Jarvis' establishment. He whistled again, softly, and then began to run for the formidable Mr. Jarvis suddenly opened the door. "Hi, boy!" he called to the page. The page hesitated, glancing back doubtfully. "Tell his excellency that I will send round in about half an hour to remeasure his foot."

The boy departed, grinning, and a little more than half an hour later a respectable-looking man presented himself at the Savoy Court, inquiring of the attendant on the elevator for the apartments of "his excellency," followed by an unintelligible word which presumably represented "Ormuz Khan." The visitor wore a well-brushed but threadbare tweed suit, although his soft collar was by no means clean. He had a short, reddish-brown beard, and very thick, curling hair of the same hue protruded from beneath a bowler hat which had seen long service.

Like Mr. Jarvis, he was bespectacled, and his teeth were much discolored and apparently broken in front, as is usual with cobblers. His hands, too, were soil-stained and his nails very black. He carried a cardboard box. He seemed to be extremely nervous, and this nervousness palpably increased when the impudent page, who was standing in the lobby, giggled on hearing his inquiry.

"Shut up, Chivers," snapped the hall porter. "Ring the bell." He glanced at the cobbler. "Second floor," he said, tersely, and resumed his study of a newspaper which he had been reading.

The representative of Mr. Jarvis was carried up to the second floor and the lift man, having indicated at which door he should knock, descended again.

There was a short interval, and then the door was opened by a man who looked like a Hindu. He wore correct morning dress and through gold-rimmed pince-nez he stared inquiringly the caller.

"Is his excellency at home?" asked the latter. "I'm from Mr. Jarvis, the bootmaker."

"Oh!" said the other, smiling slightly. "Come in. What is your name?"

"Parker, sir. From Mr. Jarvis."

As the door closed, Parker found himself in a small lobby. Beside an umbrella rack a high-backed chair was placed. "Sit down," he was directed. "I will tell his excellency that you are here."

A door was opened and closed again, and Parker found himself alone. He twirled his bowler hat, which he held in his hand, and stared about the place vacantly. Once he began to whistle, but checked himself and coughed nervously. Finally the Hindu gentleman reappeared, beckoning to him to enter.

Parker stood up very quickly and advanced, hat in hand.

Crossing the room, the Hindu rapped upon an inner door, opened it, and standing aside, "The man from the bootmaker," he said in a low voice.

Parker advanced, peering about him as one unfamiliar with his surroundings. As he crossed the threshold the door was closed behind him, and he found himself in a superbly appointed room, heavy with the perfume of hyacinths.

He stood dumbly before a man who lolled back in a deep, cushioned chair and whose almond-shaped eyes, black as night, were set immovably upon him. This man was apparently young. He wore a rich, broadcloth robe, trimmed with marten fur, and out of it his long ivory throat rose statuesquely. His complexion was likewise of this uniform ivory color, and from his low smooth brow his hair was brushed back in a series of glossy black waves.

One long, slender hand lay upon a cushion placed on the chair arm, and a pretty girl was busily engaged in manicuring his excellency's nails. Although the day had every promise of being uncomfortably hot, already a huge fire was burning in the grate.

As Parker stood before him, the languid, handsome Oriental did not stir a muscle, merely keeping the gaze of his strange black eyes fixed upon the nervous cobbler. The manicurist, after one quick upward glance, continued her work. But in this moment of distraction she had hurt the cuticle of one of those delicate, slender fingers.

Ormuz Khan withdrew his hand sharply from the cushion, glanced aside at the girl, and then, extending his hand again, pushed her away from him. Because of her half-lowering posture, she almost fell, but managed to recover herself by clutching at the edge of a little table upon which the implements of her trade were spread. The table rocked and a bowl of water fell crashing on the carpet. His excellency spoke. His voice was very musical.

"Clumsy fool!" he said. "You have hurt me, Go."

Parker fumblingly began to remove the lid of the cardboard box which he had brought with him.

"If you do not wish me to alter the shoes you have made," said his excellency, "I instructed you to remeasure my foot in order that you might make a pair to fit."

"Yes, sir," said Parker. "Quite so, your excellency." And he dropped the box and the shoes upon the floor. "Just a moment, sir?"

From an inner pocket he drew out a large sheet of white paper, a pencil, and a tape measure. "Will you place your foot upon this sheet of paper, sir?"

Dropping upon one knee, Parker removed the furred slipper from a slender, arched foot, bare, of the delicate color of ivory, and as small as a woman's.

"Now, sir."

The ivory foot was placed upon the sheet of paper, and very clumsily Parker drew its outline. He then took certain measurements and made a number of notes with a stub of thick pencil. Whenever his nose too close hands touched Ormuz Khan's delicate skin the Oriental perceptibly shuddered.

Parker replaced paper, pencil, and measure, and, picking up the rejected shoes, made for the door.

"Oh, bootmaker!" came the musical voice.

Parker turned. "Yes, sir?"

"They will be ready by Monday?"

"If possible, your excellency."

"Otherwise, I shall not accept them."

In the outer room the courteous secretary awaited Parker, and there was apparently no one else in the place, for the Hindu conducted him to the lobby and opened the door.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 26.—"Home rule" for realms, or state land government, was promised to Klansmen by Imperial Wizard H. W. # CARGO OF CRUDE OIL DUE HERE

British Admiralty Tanker Delphinula Arrives

The British admiralty tanker Delphinula, under charter to the Anglo-Saxon Oil company, arrived in Port Arthur today to load out a cargo of gas oil at the Gulf Refining company's tanks in Spain, France and Belgium. Agents for the vessel here are the Sydney C. Collin company.

With work going forward today to pull the sunken Isonzo motorship Isonzo over on an even keel, Sabine district shipping men were preparing for the outcome of the effort which probably will right the capsized vessel and result in the re-opening of the canal within a few days. It was reported in Port Arthur marine circles.

WARNS AGAINST COURT LIMIT

G. O. P. Leaders Pleased Address of Coolidge

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—Republican leaders of Pennsylvania are well pleased with the acceptance of President Coolidge's speech here last night in which the chief executive denounced attempts to limit the powers of the supreme court and warned against government control of public utilities.

Mr. Coolidge re-echoes the liberty plea in eulogizing the 105th anniversary of the first continental congress and urged obedience to the nation's basic laws.

Liberals Arraigned

The president's reference to the supreme court and government ownership of utilities was an attack on Senator LaFollette and the independent party without mentioning names.

"If we wish to maintain what the father here set up we shall do well to leave the people in the ownership of their property, in control of their government and under the protection of their courts," he said.

Mrs. Smith Attributes Present Good Health to Relief It Gave Her Years Ago.

"It has been seven years now since Tanlac ended my troubles and I have not only enjoyed good health to this day but I am 30 pounds heavier, besides," said Mrs. W. R. Smith, who actively assists her husband in operating the "Do Drop Inn," a popular refreshment and sandwich shop, 815 Fredericksburg Road, San Antonio, Texas.

"Before taking Tanlac, I must have spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief from nervous indigestion, only to go from bad to worse. I suffered for years, keeping to a strict diet all the time, and finally became almost a nervous wreck, so utterly weak and run-down that I had to spend many days in bed.

"Though I was in an almost helpless condition, Tanlac soon had me eating and digesting everything, feeling less nervous and gaining strength fast. When I had taken six bottles, I was perfectly well and happy and from that day to this, I have not had any trouble, to speak of, with my health. Tanlac is wonderful and I can't praise it enough."

Dayton Brings Veteran Squad Against Locals

14 BOYS GIVEN NEW UNIFORMS

Elam to Referee Game Saturday at 3:15

PORT ARTHUR'S Yellow-jackets will show the town what they have in stock tomorrow afternoon when they meet with Dayton high on Franklin field in the first football game of the local season tomorrow afternoon. Yellow-jackets prospects are excellent this year, and while Dayton is only a Conference B team, still the visitors may slip one over on the home boys.

Dayton has only been playing football for the last three years, but the lineup received here shows that the team coming here Saturday is practically the same that played last year and three of the players have been on the team three years. Only two of the Dayton boys have only one year of experience while six of Port Arthur's probable starting players have been on the team only one year.

Coach Arthur Line Heaver

Coach Lee Smith said this morning that Sour Lake, a traditional rival of Dayton's, openly admits being rather afraid of the team to play here tomorrow.

So far as the weight goes, the two teams are practically evenly matched. Dayton's average weight being 157 to 158 for Port Arthur. The Yellow-jacket backfield is lighter than the opposing backfield, but the Port Arthur line from end to end is five pounds per man heavier than Dayton. Dayton averages 159 pounds from end to end against 164 for Port Arthur.

Coach Smith yesterday gave out 14 new uniforms, but the competition for places on the squad is so strenuous that four more uniforms are still being held up until the best fitted candidates are to be seen. More uniforms will be ordered, Smith said.

Thirty-five players will be on the sidelines for Port Arthur tomorrow, and approximately 50 have been coming out for practice daily.

"I have never seen anything like it," the coach said. "We had more boys out yesterday than ever before."

Big Crowd Expected

Record crowds are expected out for Yellow-jacket games this year, and a crowd of no mean size will be out tomorrow. The weather has been fairly propitious for football, and if the sun remains hidden tomorrow afternoon the crowds will be, even larger. The game will start at 3:15.

Kyle "Icky" Elam, star in his day at Texas A. & M. and at Texas University, will referee the game, but the other officials have not been chosen. Efforts were made to secure "Spider" Hanna, Aggie star, to work in the game, but he has already been signed up for the Beaumont-Lake Charles game tomorrow.

The lineups tomorrow, with years of experience at the outside of the column, with weights next to each:

(1) Iglesias (136) Q. B. (133) Port Arthur
(2) Trow (158) (150) Andrews (2) Dayton
Right End
(1) Bourg (136) (153) Glyc (1) Right Tackle
(2) Turner (147) (153) Johnson (2) Center
(1) Blanchard (145) (154) Whitley (2) Left Guard
(3) R. Butaud (200) (145) Hatcher (1) Left Tackle
(1) Taylor (196) (194) Byrum (3) Left End
(2) Crow (150) (155) Berchen (2) Quarter Back
(1) Iglesias (136) (133) Wilkerson (3) Right Half
(1) Morgan (150) (148) Smith (2) Right Half
(1) McLean (150) (155) Coe (2) Left Half
(2) W. Butaud (150) (174) Brown (3) Full Back

In addition to the eleven Yellow-jackets listed above, uniforms have been issued by the coach to Batterbee, Schlicker and Elliott, all back-field players.

KARNAK

Brings Relief to Texas Man When Everything Else Fails

The ravaging effects of indigestion on the system and the quick and thorough way in which Andre's marvelous new medicine, Karnak, overcomes this health-wrecking trouble and restores the system to a condition of healthy vitality and vigor is forcefully demonstrated in the case of Mr. J. W. Beavers, well known citizen of Elgin, Texas:

"My digestion was so bad that food seemed to do me more harm than good," states Mr. Beavers. "Even at that I could eat but little on account of my poor appetite, and I lost weight and strength and got in a badly run-down condition. My sleep was very restless, also, and though I took all kinds of treatments during the past three years none of them seemed to help me."

"Well sir, Karnak gave me a splendid appetite, built me up in weight and strength and put me in a general healthy condition. It's certainly a great medicine, and I would be doing it an injustice not to say so."

Karnak is sold in Port Arthur by Hart Drug Co. and Service Drug Co. In Nederland by Nederland Pharmacy, and in Port Neches by Port Neches Drug Co.—Adv.

'Peck' Leading Shortstop In Leagues, Says Evans

This is the fifth article of a series by Billy Evans, nationally famous umpire, comparing individual values of players who may compete in the world series. In this article Evans discusses the shortstops.

Peckinpaugh, of Washington, bats and throws right handed. Veteran star, playing the greatest game of his career in the field and doing timely work with his bat. With Harries, rates the fastest double play combination around second in the majors. Averages in no way show his remarkable value to his club.

Scott, New York—Bats and throws right handed. The "Iron Man" of baseball. Has been playing continuously since 1916. Still a great shortstop, but is beginning to show signs of slowing up as a result of continuing play. Fair batter, yet extremely dangerous in pinch.

Jackson, of New York—Bats and throws right handed. Playing his first year as regular, in difficult role of taking Dave Bancroft's place. Is brilliant fielder but inclined to be a trifle erratic, due perhaps to lack of experience. Gives promise of developing into a star.

Mitchell, of Brooklyn—Bats right or left, throws right handed. Former American League, brought back from the minors, when Brooklyn needed a shortstop late in the season. Always a good fielder, but weak at the bat, is doing great work in all departments of play. Helped put Brooklyn in the running.

RATING—Peckinpaugh on general play is the most valuable shortstop in the American league this year. Wright of Pittsburgh really has the edge on his two National league rivals. Peck's longer experience, brilliant play, gives him the verdict over the field.

"Get the Kale," College Cry And Coaching Shifts Come

Coaching a football team at a major college is no longer a sinecure. Like the big league manager in baseball, the college football coach must deliver, if he is to retain prestige and position.

In the old days, if the coach succeeded in turning out a team that beat its hated rival, the season was considered to have been a success. It's different now.

The huge stadiums a number of colleges have built in recent years have considerably changed the status of the coach. There is a big overhead connected with these stadiums. In order to meet it and incidentally make enough money to tide over sports that do not draw like football, the coach must annually turn out a winner.

The coach who has the happy faculty of some way developing a winner in football is always in demand. When the gridiron prestige of a college begins to wane, the athletic board immediately starts to flirt with the successful mentor.

Many New Methods

This season will see new methods installed in different sections of the country. A number of the leading colleges have changed their coaching systems.

In an effort to cut a swath in southern football circles, Trinity has Howard Jones as coach. At Iowa Jones met with great success, won several championships and defeated Yale, his alma mater, in an intercollegiate clash. Trinity looks for Jones to put it on the football map. He should.

On the Pacific coast, Stanford, tired of having California hog the spotlight, has Glenn Warner, who made history at University of Pittsburgh as coach. For several years Warner has been having his system established at Stanford by certain assistants. This year he takes charge in person.

Warner hopes to make things interesting for Coach Andy Smith of California. It is a well known fact that Warner usually makes good on anything he sets out to do in football.

Moran at Bucknell

Bucknell will be guided by Charles Moran, who made the football world take notice with his great little Centre College eleven. Bucknell dedicates a new stadium this year and wants a winner, must have it.

Some of the "Big Ten" coaches are wondering if Illinois will miss Burt Ingwersen, who succeeds Howard Jones at Iowa. For years Ingwersen has been a trusted lieutenant of Zupke and greatly aided in the development of championship teams at Illinois.

Dave Morrow, former Washington and Jefferson star, will again be back at his old school after several years' absence, succeeding Heisman who goes to Rice Institute in Texas.

Dr. J. B. Sutherland, who played under Glenn Warner at Pittsburgh, and who for several years has coached at Lafayette, will be in charge at Pittsburgh. Sutherland has had a very successful career as coach.

These changes in the coaching systems in the various sections of the country will make for much renewed interest in the game.

HARD TEAM FOR BEARS SATURDAY

Texas Southwestern at Austin Tomorrow

What is supposed to be something of a real test is in line for the Texas Aggies today when they play the Trinity Tigers of Waco at College Station. The Aggies last week defeated John Tarleton 40-0 but the victory reflected no particular glory on the Farmers, judging from all counts. The second string Aggies could not halt the junior college team, and only the whistle prevented Tarleton from scoring in the second quarter.

The A. & M.-Trinity game and T. C. U.'s game at Fort Worth constitute the only competition being taken on today by conference teams, other members waiting until tomorrow to open their sons, while still others will not play their opening game until the following Saturday. The Port Arthur game was scheduled for tomorrow, but the affair was advanced a day in order not to interfere with the Dixie series.

S. M. U. to Play Denton

Saturday's grid program over the southwest will offer one game that promises to be interesting—Baylor vs. Simmons at Abilene. Seemingly correct reports from Waco have it that several Baylor stars will be out of the fray, for Simmons, with its brilliant aggregation of 1923 Abilene high stars, may force Baylor to the limit.

Texas will play Southwestern at Austin in what will probably be a fairly good preliminary game—perhaps not more than three or four touchdowns margin. S. M. U. probably will have "chicken and dressing" at Dallas against the Denton Teachers, not an alarmingly formidable crew.

For the benefit of the many Port Arthur followers of the Aggies and conference football, The News reprints the following excerpts from the next-day review of the game of Jinx Tucker, sports editor of the Waco News-Tribune, who is particularly to the Aggies and who is incidentally the most acute football critic in the southwest:

"The football season is young. It is not yet really under way. A capable coach can do much toward improving the work of his material in two or three weeks."

"And that's about all the consolation the Aggie supporters can get from the miserable showing of the 1924 prospective Aggie team Saturday afternoon, when the Farmers defeated Baylor, 40-0, in a game which was a score of 40 to 0. The material, which Coaches Bible and Kothgeb exhibited to an unusually large crowd for an early game, is the poorest that we have seen at Aggie field since 1912. It will be remembered that following the big and M. season of 1912, the Farmers lost practically all of their better men due to a strike of the students and Charlie Moran was forced to fashion an entirely new team in 1913."

"It is difficult to estimate the real strength of a football team, when that team has been practicing only 10 days, but we nevertheless saw enough Saturday to convince us that the Aggie squad as a whole of last year, by about 20 per cent. Jack Evans produced a first-string line-up Saturday that showed promise of being developed into a machine as strong offensively as the machine of last year if that is saying anything. We seriously doubt, however, if the club will be as strong defensively."

Last year Bible's second-string team was a powerful organization from a defensive standpoint. In early season games it seemed just as strong as the first team. Bible used that second-string club with success against some of the strongest of the T. I. A. A. contenders. Let him send his second-string team into the Trinity game this week for a period as long as the second team of last year played against Howard Payne, and the team from Waco will win more than likely put over a victory. Bible used his second team against John Tarleton yesterday in the second quarter and again late in the final quarter, and the work of these youngsters was far from creditable.

Tarleton Outlays Second Team

"Despite the fact that John Tarleton presented a team which will hardly have a chance for the junior college title, despite the fact that the Tarleton boys charged high, and showed a wonderful lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of the game, despite the fact that they used judgment in the line, despite the fact that they were outplayed by a capable high school field general, the boys from Stephenville outplayed the Tarleton team yesterday. The Tarleton boys charged high, and showed a wonderful lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of the game, despite the fact that they used judgment in the line, despite the fact that they were outplayed by a capable high school field general, the boys from Stephenville outplayed the Tarleton team yesterday."

It has been said and said wisely that a football team which is no better than its reserve strength, if such can be applied at Aggiefield, Coach Bible and his Farmers need another dismal year indeed. D. X. Bible is a splendid coach, one of the best in the country. Claud Kothgeb is an ideal assistant, and it is well fortified that the Farmers are well fortified in this department for a coach of average ability could not make the Aggie material and finish better than 300 in the T. I. A. A.

First-String Line-Up

"Bible's first-string line-up looks just about as follows: Allison and Wilson, ends; Dietrich and Waugh, tackles; Norman Danby and Forson, guards, though Forson was not in the game Saturday due to a slight injury. Brazelton, center; Mr. Danby, quarterback; Kishle and Wilson, halfbacks; Miller, fullback. Bill Finley is still on the second squad, but he may develop into a first-string performer before the conference games are with us."

"We doubt if the Aggies will be any stronger at quarterback this year than was the case last season. Saturday, a squad man of 1924 made a much better showing than Danby, the Fish quarterback of last year. He is full of pep. He is speedy, and a splendid broken field runner. He staged the longest run in the game Saturday and it was along this line that he seemed to have the edge on Danby. The latter, however, does lots of things on a football field well. Inasmuch as he is quite apt to improve in each department as the season progresses, he is quite apt to make a valuable man. There is also the possibility that Berry will win the quarterback job. Berry is a valuable man. Bible will use that man in the line back position. Bible used these boys in that manner in the last game Saturday."

"The usual stellar early-season Aggie defense was not manifest Saturday. The Tarleton boys scored five first downs in the first quarter, and while Allison showed great potentialities as an end, Wilson at the other wing did not do so well. Perhaps he will develop, but we have an idea that it will take him more than a year to progress to the point where he might start as Jack Evans starred last year. Wilson, however, looked as a better wing than Steinwacker and Elidout, the two used on

Jimmy Walkup to Pitch For Cats Against Rogers

VICTORY SEEN IN GOP TANGLE

Demos Believe 'Honesty' Issue Will Force Win

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—"Honesty in government," made the paramount issue in the presidential campaign by John W. Davis, has forced argument against the republicans administration into a winning issue. The party needed has been furnished by former Attorney General Daugherty, in their opinion. Democratic chiefs have redoubled their efforts to reopen the issue of justice. But in attempting to force the issue, they were careful that the actual calling of the special committee meeting should come from a republican—Senator Brookhart of Iowa. Approve Davis' Stand As Davis prepared to leave late today on a speaking trip that will take him to Charleston, Huntington and Bluefields in the native West Virginia, democratic leaders expressed satisfaction at his reply to Daugherty. Davis dismissed Means' repudiation of his testimony and his subsequent recantation of the repudiation with the assertion that "no man should be convicted on the uncorroborated testimony of a witness whose evil character was so generally well known as his." But, he added, the very employment of Means as Daugherty's "sample witness" for the summary removal of the attorney general by whom he was appointed.

AT THE CAMEO "What Shall I Do?" The Frank E. Woods production playing at the Cameo theatre is our idea of an excellent photoplay. It has that pleasant combination of pathos and humor woven about a theme that has a real message and a story replete with human interest. It is a tale of youth—not riotous youth this time—but youth, face to face with the realities of life. Don McLean, a rich man's son, is starting from the bottom in the factory. He is so eager to go "on his own" that he has changed his name and is living among the workmen. He falls in love with Jennie Andrews, little cashier of the cheap restaurant where he eats. Jennie has a distrust of rich men and so even when he marries her he does not tell her of

Menus For a Family

Breakfast—Fresh pears, scrambled eggs with bacon, corn bread, milk, coffee. Luncheon—Spinach timbales, whole wheat bread and butter, sliced tomatoes, oatmeal cookies, cocoa, tea. Dinner—Casserole of chicken, mashed potatoes, creamed lima beans, stuffed tomato salad, vanilla ice cream, sponge cake, milk, coffee. With the exception of the stuffed tomato salad and the rich gravy over the chicken, a 4-year-old child may be given all the dishes suggested in the menus. He should not have the seeds of tomatoes and you may prefer to stew them and rub them through a puree strainer.

Corn Bread One cup corn meal, 4 tablespoons whole wheat flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons brown sugar, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 cups sour milk, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter. Mix dry ingredients. Beat eggs until light in a bowl with a dower beater. Add sour milk to dry ingredients and beat until smooth. Add eggs and pour mixture into a hot frying pan with bottom and sides well covered with butter. Bake half an hour in a hot oven.

Spinach Timbales Two cups cooked spinach, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper. Chop spinach and season with salt and pepper. Beat eggs until light with milk. Combine mixtures and fill tim-bale cups two-thirds full of mixture. Set in a pan of hot water and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Remove from molds and serve. Stuffed Tomato Salad Four large smooth tomatoes, 2 cups cooked chopped corn, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 1-2 teaspoon onion juice, mayonnaise. Peel tomatoes and scoop out seeds. Sprinkle inside with salt and let stand one hour on ice. Combine corn, pepper and onion juice with mayonnaise and fill tomatoes with mixture. Use enough mayonnaise to make the filling moist. Serve on lettuce hearts and mask the whole with mayonnaise. The corn and pepper can be combined with French dressing or a plain dressing and mayonnaise used only as a garnish.

Oatmeal Cookies One cup oatmeal, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1-2 cup chopped raisins, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Cream butter and sugar and add egg well beaten. Mix raisins with flour baking powder, cinnamon and salt and oatmeal. Add alternately with milk to first mixture. Spread on a buttered and floured cookie sheet and bake in a moderate oven. Cut in two-inch squares and spread on molding board to cool. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

of the greatest dramas of the century—and one that will be an invaluable historical record. An excellent cast headed by J. Warren Kerrigan and Louis Wilson portray the various roles.

AT THE PEARCE Miss and Mrs. Moviel will have a gorgeous display of feminine finery upon which to feast their eyes in "The Perfect Flapper," Colleen Moore's First National picture now showing at the Pearce theatre. Colleen Moore wears many stunning gowns in this picture but her costume representing Juliet, the Shakespeare heroine, is especially appealing. Flappers will also be interested in the latest vogue in bobbed hair as exemplified by the perfect flapper of the screen, Phyllis Haver, the famous bathing beauty is to be seen in some daring creations in the bal masque scenes.

"The Perfect Flapper," aside from its pretentious presentation, boasts an unusually brilliant cast in the persons of Sydney Chaplin, Frank Mayo, Phyllis Haver, Lydia Knott and Charles Wellesley. John Francis Dillon directed.

COTTON CROP HALF NORMAL Government Statistics Reveal 55.4 Per Cent Stand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The condition of the cotton crop on September 16 was 55.4 per cent normal, indicating a total production this year of 12,596,000 bales, the department of agriculture reported today. The condition on September 1 was 59.3 per cent. Last year's production was 10,139,671 bales. Cotton ginned from the 1924 crop to September 16 totaled 2,692,636 running bales, counting round as half bales, the census bureau reported in a simultaneous statement.

GIRL ATTACKED, GUARD ACCUSED

Italians Enraged When Man Confesses Guilt

GARY, Ind., Sept. 26.—Heavy guard was placed on the jail here today to prevent possible attempts of enraged Italians to seize Peter Verobolina, 28, who confessed to assaulting and killing Anna Tomisch, pretty 9-year-old daughter of an Italian merchant. After hours of sharp cross examination, Verobolina confessed to police that he carried the child off Monday afternoon, assaulted her, choked her and then carried the body to Tolleston, a suburb, and buried it in a shallow grave. Verobolina was arrested in Chicago last night.

Spell of Yukon, And Other Service Poems In Library

Memorial Library has a copy of "The Spell of the Yukon." Wednesday The News printed a story in which Memorial Library was quoted as not having a copy of the Robert W. Service classic dealing with the men "who milled for gold." "We do have a copy of 'The Spell of the Yukon' and it is in the library now and happens not to have left our shelves for several days. Memorial Library has a copy of 'The Spell of the Yukon' since 1918 except for a period of several weeks last spring when a borrower failed to return this book and repeated calls at his rooming house failed to locate him or the book. So, therefore, we ordered another copy. "We have always had many calls for Kipling's poetry and we have, therefore, frequently included Kipling in our orders. At present we have seven volumes of Kipling's poetry and at least five collections of poems containing a number of his best poems," says Miss Mary E. Donaldson, librarian.

NEW YORK STATE G. C. P. FLAYS KLAN

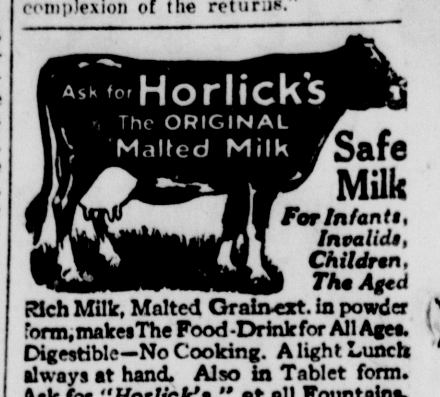

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 26.—After a nearly all night session behind locked doors the platform committee of the republican state convention voted to present a plank denouncing the Ku Klux Klan by name. The plank condemns any organization whether it be called the Ku Klux Klan or by any other name, which seeks to inject race and religion into politics. Going into executive session at 8 o'clock last night it was 3 a. m. when the platform was finally adopted with the plank naming the Klan.

Davis Is Texas' Favorite, But Coolidge Nation's in Straw Vote

LaFollette Holds Second Place at End of Second Week's Poll by Literary Digest

Coolidge again leads in the second week's returns of The Literary Digest's huge presidential poll published today with LaFollette second and Davis third. Of a total of 272,239 votes tabulated, Coolidge has 162,473, LaFollette, 63,534, and Davis, 42,611. In Texas Coolidge received 4,298, Davis 7,312, LaFollette 1,122. In 1920 the same voters voted: Republican 2,432, democratic 8,110. In California, LaFollette is running Coolidge a strong second, having 19,829 tallies to the president's 22,848. Davis is leading the field in Texas and Virginia and is also ahead of LaFollette in Ohio, Kansas and West Virginia. In all other states the senator from Wisconsin is leading the democratic candidate. "The poll at first blush" The Digest states, "may not seem very cheering to the democrats, but a slight inspection will show the fact that, with two exceptions, the democratic states are still to be heard from and when they begin to flood in their ballots, the figures may have another story to tell. "In the meantime it may be interesting to observe how firmly the LaFollette strength is holding up in California. The first returns, reported last week, gave Coolidge 1,624, LaFollette, 1,561, and Davis 233. This week, the figures stand, Coolidge 22,848, LaFollette 19,829, and Davis 3,008. Most republican political prophets have placed California in the certain column for Coolidge, and founded their computations on a total electoral vote in which the Pacific state's thirteen ballots were included. "California, it is recalled, upset one election, not long since, and, from present indications, the state is far from firmly planted in the republican column. "The drift of votes, shown in a general way by a tabulation of How the Same Voters Voted in 1920, seems to suggest a loss of republican strength to LaFollette in California, a much smaller loss in Illinois, Pennsylvania, and New York. Analyzing the vote in more detail, it appears from the markings of the ballots, that, of Mr. Coolidge's 22,848 votes from California 16,976 of the voters were republicans in the last elections, 1,431 were democrats, and 4,304 either cast no vote or neglected to declare their previous affiliation. "Of Mr. LaFollette's vote of 19,829, 10,075 say that they voted the republican ticket in 1920 and 4,010 say they voted democratic with 5,134 not voting. It appears, therefore, that Mr. LaFollette is drawing heavily from both sides in the coast state. "In Illinois, the LaFollette vote of 12,726 is drawn from 2,318 former democrats and 6,713 former republicans, with 3,333 who did not vote in 1920. Mr. Coolidge's vote of 36,309 in the same state is drawn, 28,635 from former republicans, and 1,956 from former democrats, with 5,617 not specifying. "Mr. Davis' vote of 8,147, however, includes almost as many former republican votes as Mr. Coolidge's includes former democrats. In spite of his total vote of less than one-fourth of the number credited to Mr. Coolidge, the democratic candidate has captured 1,366 ex-republicans. The whole matter of this floating vote, will, of course, gain in significance with increasing returns. "Of course," The Digest explains, "it must be taken into consideration that the present poll is just getting under way, with 1,000,000 ballots per day still being mailed out to various parts of the country; that 36 of the 48 states are still to be heard from, and that there is thus far only a comparatively small vote from the twelve states now reported. Two weeks may considerably change the complexion of the returns.

MAKING 'FROSH' FEEL AT HOME

Conference Held For New Students at Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—Unusual efforts are being made on the part of University of Texas authorities to make the several hundred freshmen who have just arrived to attend that institution feel at home in their new environment. They have been given special attention in the matter of conferences with members of the faculty and in receiving individual personal attention. President W. M. W. Spahn, in a statement addressed to the freshmen, said:

"The University of Texas always welcomes cordially the incoming freshman class. It is from this class that the other classes must come. The University's faculty, its libraries, its laboratories, all of its facilities for instruction, are at the disposal of the students who come. While the freshman will not be able during his first year to make use of all these facilities, nor of such of them as he would like to take advantage of, it is expected that he will become familiar with what a university can do for a student, and that he will be sufficiently introduced to some of the fields of knowledge so to choose intelligently in which he believes that he could specialize with most profit to himself.

"The University is organized to give instruction, and a reasonable application will result in adding to instruction something worthy to be called culture. At the University high ideals are maintained, and the freshmen are always welcome as among the young people of the state who have high purposes, and who are capable of developing the greatest strength of character."

BLAMES G. O. P. FOR TEAPOT DOME SCANDAL

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Responsibility for the Teapot Dome and veterans bureau scandals were placed squarely on the national republican party in the keynote speech of the state democratic convention here today by Francis E. Cullen, temporary chairman.

The democratic chairman characterized the issue of the present campaign as the "humiliating and astounding corruption which has obtained during the past four years as the very heart of the federal government, penetrating even the precincts of the president's cabinet."

ALLEGED WILBUR SPEECH SCORED

LaFollette Says "Oil Will Ooze From G.O.P."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Concurrent with release by the democratic national committee of the entire undivided speech which Secretary of the Navy Wilbur was to have delivered at Denver last Saturday, LaFollette headquarters here today made public a speech Wilbur delivered at Taft, California, before a group of oil men.

"Oil will persist in oozing out of the republican cabinet no matter how the president tries to check it with saw timber," Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., said in a statement accompanying the release of his address.

Teapot Dome Champion
"Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, one of Coolidge's appointees, is the latest champion of the Albert Fall oil reserve leases and defender of the oil men," he said. LaFollette, Jr., then quoted from Wilbur's Taft speech as follows:

"Harsh things have been said about the oil men, but I do not believe a more patriotic group of the oil men gathered in this room could be found in the country. Whenever the American government wanted oil, it was forthcoming. There were no slackers in the oil fields."

"In time of war, oil must be obtained regardless of the cost and economies cannot be considered when the nation requires fuel that is still in the ground."

"Of course, Wilbur's statement was aimed to assure the oil interests of the administration's favorable attitude."

CARPET MILL USES 30,000 SHEEP DAILY

The wool used daily in the weaving of carpets and rugs by a New York manufacturer is equal to the shearing from thirty thousand sheep. The soft, rich coats of these animals are turned into the looms at the rate of 120,000 pounds every day.

These and many other interesting facts were revealed recently through the publication of statistics concerning the mammoth mills at Yonkers, N. Y., by Alexander Smith & Sons Carpet company, said to be the largest manufacturers of carpets and rugs in the world.

Every hour this mill produces 11,250 yards, or 187 1/2 yards per minute. The amount of mechanical energy entering the work may be pictured from the fact that the company uses 225 tons of coal every day.

All this activity takes place in mills which occupy 52 1/2 acres of floor space, ample area to accommodate the piling of about 40,000 motor cars.

The founder of these mills was the inventor of the famous Axminster loom. The institution which has carried on since 1860 has specialized, it is said, in the making of four basic weaves, known as Axminsters, Velvets, Tapestry, Brussels and Wilton Velvets.

Blalock Given Support For Chief of S. of C. V.

Port Arthur may furnish the next state commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans of Texas, it was indicated today in communications coming in from posts all over the state pleading support to Elgin H. Blalock, local attorney, for the office at the state convention which begins a three-day session Monday at Fort Worth.

Blalock at present holds the second highest office in the organization being state adjutant and chief of staff. He has been actively connected with the work of the Sons of Confederate Veterans for years. He has held two national offices in the organization being in 1922 assistant adjutant and chief of general staff and historian for the Trans-Mississippi department. He was also first commander in 1920 of the District of Columbia and Maryland division.

His long experience in the work and fact he holds the second highest office makes it not unlikely and highly probable that Blalock will succeed Elgin Smith as state commander, his friends say.

DAVIS TO SPEAK IN BLUEFIELD

West Virginia Four Nearly Completed

WILLIAMSON, West Va., Sept. 26.—Somewhat tired but happy over his visit, John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, today started on his last day in West Virginia, his home state, with a dozen rear-end platform speeches before him.

Davis tonight will speak in Bluefield, West Virginia, where LaFollette followers are admittedly numerous. While he admits that the progressive movement is formidable, Davis will emphasize that the only real relief in sight for those who want a real change in government is to vote the democratic ticket.

Davis had a very trying day yesterday. The amplifiers on his private car were damaged in collision with the top of a tunnel and in two big meetings yesterday he was forced to depend wholly on the carrying powers of his voice to reach the crowds that gathered at the rear end of the train.

The polo trot is said to be the new fall dance, but we don't know if they run neck and neck or nose and nose.

Rome, Ga., reports a man drank some new cider, and when he got home the keyhole was gone.

WHEELER MOVES THROUGH IOWA

Candidate Gains Confidence As Campaign Grows

WITH WHEELER TO DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 26.—From the iron pits of Minnesota, Senator Burton K. Wheeler sped down to the farm belt of Iowa, today with a "message of confidence" to his independent followers.

After sweeping through Illinois and Minnesota this week, Wheeler is personally more confident of success than he has been before.

Illinois Strength Seen
"Developments are bringing us Illinois and we already have Minnesota," he announced aboard his private car. "Never have I encountered such an enthusiastic and widespread sentiment in behalf of a political movement, as in these two states."

"The joint organizations of the laborers and farmers here have developed to a far greater extent than the people back east suspect."

Gain in Minnesota
"In Minnesota we will not carry the state for LaFollette but will entrench the full farmer-labor ticket in state offices."

In Iowa and Nebraska Wheeler intends to stress the failure of the republican administration to provide adequate relief for the farmers. He presaged his crusade southward with a speech to farmers of Duluth last night in which he said it would be impossible for President Coolidge to work out any permanent agricultural legislation, even if he desired it.

BLOCK SOUGHT FOR LAFOLLETTE

Seek Court Writ Barring Liberal Electors

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—On the heels of the California supreme court decision knocking the LaFollette electors off the ballot of that state, William M. Butler, chairman of the national republican committee, announced a similar effort in North Dakota.

Butler said the LaFollette leaders were trying to perpetrate a "gigantic fraud" in North Dakota. The case will come before the supreme court next Monday, Butler said.

Fraud Charged
A second action was filed with the secretary of state. It is asked to strike the names of four electors from the republican ballot and substitute for them persons to be picked by the organization.

Chairman Nelson of the LaFollette-Wheeler headquarters, declared the court activities of the republicans indicated they fear the strength of the independent party and are resorting to every effort to "take the franchise from the people."

FIND ACCOMMODATION FOR TEXAS CO-EDS

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—Gradually the accommodation of young women students of the University of Texas is being accomplished. Another 100 co-eds were taken care of in this manner at the beginning of the present term of the institution by the opening of the new Methodist dormitory. This building occupies a delightful location near the university and it is fitted up with all the modern conveniences and appliances for the comfort of the young women students who are so fortunate as to be included in its accepted list of applicants. It is expected that within the next few years there will be enough dormitories at the university to accommodate all of the co-eds. It has been found that students who occupy dormitories make better progress in their studies than those who room elsewhere, it is asserted by instructors.

Negroes Enrolled in GOP Campaign Service

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 26.—The negro women of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the New England states are enrolling in large numbers in the republican party.

Robert R. Church, negro millionaire of Memphis, Tenn., who was recently dropped from the Tennessee state republican committee, was restored to the committee through the suggestion of William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee.

DELAY COMPLETION OF BIOLOGY BUILDING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—It will be some time in February before the new biology building of the University of Texas is finished and ready for occupancy, it is authoritatively stated. The building will be an attractive addition to the campus group of newer structures, but the increase of enrollment of students will make it necessary to continue to occupy for other uses the shacks which will be vacated by the biology instructors and laboratories, it is stated. In other words the growth of the university is more than keeping pace with the erection of new buildings, and the number of unsightly shacks upon the campus is increasing instead of diminishing.

TRAIN THE BOY FOR MARRIAGE

Expert Says Home Must Be Reorganized

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 26.—Boys should be trained for the matrimonial contest the same as girls. The home must be reorganized on a fifty-fifty basis if it is to survive.

The "good old-fashioned family" is gone forever. Wives shouldn't spend all their time at home—association with the inferior minds of servants will cause her personality to shrivel.

These are some of the observations of Dr. Edith "ale Swift, hygiene exponent, here to lecture under the auspices of the health conservation association.

"The part time wife will be a feature of the new home," declared Dr. Swift. "Something will have to be done to free women from much of the petty drudgery of household tasks."

Itching Between the Toes
is relieved quickly by applying a piece of cotton, saturated in Imperial Eozema Kennedy, to affected parts at bedtime. All druggists are authorized to refund your money if it fails.—Adv.
